A LITTLE BIT ABOUT LITTLE CITY GRILL

...because lots of people ask!

LITTLE CITY GRILL officially got its start in September of 2013, when owner Bert Bellinson changed the sign in front of the restaurant from Diggers Bar and Grill to Little City Grill. Of course the story starts much earlier... even earlier than Bert's tenure as owner of Diggers beginning January 1, 2013.

A foodie since college, Bert started freelancing in the catering business while working at his "real job" as owner of BGS Chemical. He started Big Guy BBQ in Kent in 2009, and expanded his horizons beyond pulled pork with Little City Caterers in 2011, working out of a catering kitchen on Lake Street.

With a big push from a handful of investors, he was persuaded to take the plunge into the business full time. For the past year he has been thrilled to run Kent's newest hometown bar and grill, and privileged to serve so many great regulars and new friends... including you! Thanks for being here!
